

Japan-U.S. Economic Forum

JETRO is proud to announce the Japan-US Economic Forum, to be held on Friday, May 1st, 2015 at the Millennium Biltmore Hotel in downtown Los Angeles.

We have gathered speakers from the top levels of government and industry in Japan and the U.S. to discuss trends in trade between the two countries. JETRO's Chairman, Hiroyuki Ishige will present the welcome address. Leading officials from three major companies each from both countries will form a panel moderated by Mariko Sakakibara of the UCLA Anderson School of Management, discussing changes in the Japanese market. And finally, we will hear directly from representatives from the top ranks of the Japanese and U.S. government.

This forum is your best opportunity to learn about the many opportunities for business and trade with Japan, whether you are looking for opportunities for export, import, investment or partnership. Our panelists are drawn from various fields, such as the automotive, medical, energy, food, trade, and investment industries, and the insights they share will be valuable regardless of your field of interest. Japanese companies have made key contributions to business in the U.S., and these leaders will discuss how we can increase cooperation between the U.S. and Japan.

The seminar will be followed immediately by a reception, where attendees can continue to discuss the issues facing businesses on both sides of the Pacific. There will also be the opportunity to hear from Los Angeles' city government managers and speak with representatives from Japanese affiliated companies.

Seating will be limited to 300 attendees for the seminar and 500 for the reception, so we encourage you to sign up as soon as possible.
